Superior Fuel Company Announces Investment in Iron Range

Duluth, MN (12-27-2016) – Superior Fuel Company, a locally-owned and operated propane company based in Duluth, Minnesota, is pleased to announce its completion of a bulk storage facility in the Hibbing, MN area. Superior Fuel Company pursued and developed this investment in the Iron Range so that cost-conscious customers have a convenient, reasonably-priced propane option.

Superior Fuel Company, founded in 2006, serves residential, commercial, and industrial customers, providing service in northeast Minnesota and northwest Wisconsin. The company's service area map can be found here: superiorfuelcompany.com/servicearea

The company has served the entire Iron Range since 2009, and the new storage facility ensures the company can provide better service to the region. "We strive to exceed customer expectations. We are open and honest with our customers, and work extremely hard to provide them with a better value and price on propane and heating oil," said Ryan Gunderson, president of Superior Fuel Company. "With this new bulk plant, we'll be able to enhance our reliability, proactively manage tank levels for our customers, and provide faster deliveries. That's extremely important to me, as I was born and raised in Hibbing."

Superior Fuel Company expanded rapidly in 2014, when almost one thousand customers made the switch to Superior Fuel. That was during the supply crisis and skyrocketing prices during the winter of 2013-14. Superior Fuel Company honored its promised price agreements, and delivered peace of mind even when the market was at its worst, and was proud to be able to take care of its customers. The company offers a number of programs to suit customer needs, including a Stable Pricing Plan that provides customers a guaranteed, fixed price on propane during the term of their contract, which was critical for customers during the 2013-14 winter.

Superior Fuel Company is a locally-owned and expanding propane company with the mission of providing customers with better value and pricing on propane and heating oil, and operating the business around honesty and transparency. Superior Fuel Company strives to exceed customer expectations, placing an emphasis on convenience – offering scheduled delivery plans, Easy Pay and other convenient pay options, Stable Propane Pricing Plans, Pre-Buy Plans, and more.
